

Montpelier

News from James Madison University

As Lettermen Boost Chances for Championship

Dukes Eye Another 'Believe It' Season

The 1982-83 James Madison University basketball team will have 11 lettermen, including four starters, returning from last year's 24-6 team that won the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Southern Division regular-season championship and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Eastern Regional. JMU defeated Ohio State 55-48 in the opening round of the Eastern Regional before losing 52-50 to top-ranked and eventual national champion North Carolina.

The only player not returning from last year's outstanding team was a key one for the Dukes. Linton Townes, a 6'7" forward who was JMU's leading scorer and the ECAC South's Player of the Year in 1981-82, scored 1,380 points during his four-year JMU career. He averaged 16.3 points and 5.9 rebounds a game last season, and was a second-round draft choice (33rd player chosen) of the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1982 National Basketball Association Draft.

"Linton Townes gave us a level of consistency offensively, defensively and on the boards that will be difficult to replace," said JMU head basketball coach Lou Campanelli. "He wanted to take the shot in the clutch and he could hit that big shot. Linton was also a big plus against the zone because he had range on his jumper beyond zone defenses. He was also a great captain and the intangibles he contributed on and off the court will be hard to replace."

Everybody else is back for the Dukes who will be led by 6'8" senior center Dan Ruland and senior guards David Dupont and Charles Fisher.

Ruland was JMU's leading rebounder (6.3) and second leading scorer (12.7) last season. He was an All-ECAC South selection and was ranked 22nd in the nation in field goal shooting percentage after making 59.8 percent of his shots.

"Dan is a very underrated center when you look at all of the things he does," Campanelli said. "He plays good defense, he blocks out well, he's got a soft shooting touch for a big man from 15 to 16 feet out, and he only fouled out of two games last season. He's a rugged, physical player who uses his strength effectively under the basket."

The 6'5" Dupont led the team in assists for the third straight season (100) and averaged 6.7 points and 3.7 rebounds a game. He is fourth on JMU's all-time assist list with 283 and needs just 38 assists to become the Dukes' all-time assist leader.

"David Dupont is probably the most unselfish player we've ever had in our program," Campanelli said. "He has a lot of poise and savvy, he's a good defender, he passes the ball well, he can rebound and he can hit the open jumper. If anything, David needs to look to the basket more and pick up his scoring average."

Fisher overcame an assortment of injuries to average 8.9 points a game and hand out 56 assists last year. His quickness and defensive ability have

Continued on Page 2

David Dupont

Charles Fisher controls play during last season's NCAA Tournament.

Derek Steele drives against Ohio State in JMU's NCAA opener.

In This Issue

Coach Lou Campanelli talks about the Dukes. See Page 3.

The Dukes had their finest season last year. See Page 6.

Women's basketball has "a new beginning" this year. See Page 8.

Shelia Moorman takes over as the new women's coach. See Page 9.

Dukes

Continued from Page 1

been keys to JMU's nationally-ranked defense the last two years.

"Charles is a very courageous player and a natural leader," Campanelli said. "He's very quick in the open court, a fine defender and he's a good jump shooter from 18-20 feet."

Dupont and Fisher have started in the backcourt for the Dukes since their freshman season.

"Our defense has improved the last few years because Dupont and Fisher have stopped the opposition's penetration," Campanelli said. "They are both good position defenders."

JMU's other returning starter is 6'6" sophomore Darrell Jackson. Jackson moved into the starting lineup midway through the 1981-82 season and averaged 4.9 points and 3.7 rebounds a game. He shot 56.9 percent from the field.

"Darrell came on very strong in January and February last season," Campanelli said. "He plays very well around the basket and he plays good defense. When he gets confidence in his outside shot he'll be a complete player."

Junior Derek Steele, the Dukes' top backcourt reserve the last two seasons, also returns. The 5'9" Steele averaged 4.6 points a game last season and had 55 assists.

"Derek does as good a job as anyone his size at our level of competition," Campanelli said. "He gives away three to six inches every time he steps on the court, but he plays hard and he really gets after you. He's very quick with the ball on the break, an excellent defender and he's very good in the delay game."

Among the players expected to compete for the forward position left open by the loss of Townes are 6'8" senior Bob Donohoe, and 6'7" juniors Keith Bradley and Woody Boler.

"Bradley is the best passing big man in our program and I think we'll get some more scoring from him this season," Campanelli said. "He's a good rebounder and he's a good offensive player from the low post."

"Donohoe is a good shooter who can help us against a zone and Boler was a key man off the bench for us last season."

Donohoe (2.4 pts., 1.6 rebs.) was a starter for the Dukes the first half of the 1981-82 season, but was hampered by a leg injury during the second half of the season.

Bradley (2.2 pts., 1.5 rebs.) played extremely well at the end of the 1981-82 season, particularly in JMU's NCAA tournament games against Ohio State and North Carolina.

Boler was a key reserve for the Dukes last season and averaged 3.5 points and 1.9 rebounds a game.

Other returning lettermen include 5'11" junior guard Troy Keys, 6'5" sophomore guard Jimmy Masloff and 6'7" sophomore forward Greg Mosten.

"If Mosten works hard, he can help us this season," Campanelli said. "He works the boards hard, but he needs to develop his shot.

JMU coaches John Thurston (left), Lou Campanelli and Bill Leatherman watch the Dukes from the bench.

"Keys has fine quickness and gives us depth at the guard position, and Masloff can also help us. Jimmy made the transition from forward to guard last season. He has a tendency to want to put the ball on the floor too much and needs to learn to catch and shoot it."

JMU will also be bolstered by the addition of four freshman players. The Dukes' freshmen include 6'5" forward Todd Banks of Bellport, N.Y.; 6'9½" center-forward Eric Esch of Whitestone, N.Y.; 6'4" guard-forward William Hughes of Beltsville, Md.; and 6'6" forward Tracy Williams of Beaufort, N.C.

"Our freshmen must learn our system and get their feet wet," Campanelli said. "That will take some time, but they've got some talent. We would like to bring them along slowly unless one of them proves to be just outstanding. We'll use them when we think they're ready. It's a big jump from the high school level to the intensity of college basketball."

The 1981-82 JMU team played well together and relied on strong defense, good shooting and good depth in compiling its 24-6 record. The Dukes, who shot 51.5 percent from the field as a team last season and were ranked fifth in the nation in team defense (52 points a game), were also a good rebounding team despite the fact that their biggest man was 6'8". JMU out-rebounded its opponents by an average of five rebounds a game and ranked 24th in the nation in that department.

JMU's 1982-83 team is expected to rely on those same strengths. The Dukes should be a good shooting team and should again play strong defense. JMU will not have overwhelming size so the Dukes will have to work the boards hard and rebounding could be a problem. Campanelli will be looking to his freshmen to help strengthen his bench and he will be hoping to find a perimeter shooter to replace Townes.

"I think our strengths will be similar to the last two seasons," Campanelli said. "We will play good solid defense, we will be a good shooting team and we will be characterized by overall unselfish team play. Our guys also rebound better than they are given credit for. We've never been embarrassed on the boards and we should be able to rebound with anybody.

"Problem areas could be depth at forward and center, and our outside shooting against the zone. We are hopeful that our freshmen will help us from a depth standpoint as the season progresses. Our perimeter shooting could be a problem in December, but I hope we will have that solved by January.

"I'm hopeful that Dupont and Fisher will shoot the ball better than they did in December last season, and we can also slide Ruland out because he can shoot the ball from 15 feet. Hopefully Fisher will have an injury-free season and be able to maintain his rhythm. Dupont just needs to look to the basket more because he has the potential to be a double figure scorer.

"One of our younger players could also step forward and help us in this department. It could be someone in our program that's been waiting in the wings or it could be one of our freshmen players."

Don't look, however, for the Dukes to change much that has been successful for them the last couple of seasons.

"We have got to continue to do the things we've done the last few years," Campanelli says. "We're not a blow out team and we really have a low margin of error. We're not an easy team to get away from either and I think we'll be involved in a lot of games that will be decided by seven points or less.

"We really have a tough December. Last year we won a lot of games in December and really built our momentum. It's going to be tougher this season. Our chances of winning 20 plus games in the regular season may not be as realistic. What it all boils down to, however, is the conference tournament at the end of the season. We've got four starters back from last season and I think we have as good a chance as anyone in the tournament situation."

Darrell Jackson gets two points on a fastbreak basket in a Godwin Hall game last season.

With Head Coach Lou Campanelli

Decade of Growth Brings Dukes Success

Lou Campanelli has spent a decade building the James Madison University basketball program.

Campanelli is the head basketball coach at JMU. You remember him. He was the man on his knees during the final exciting moments of JMU's near upset of North Carolina in last year's NCAA Tournament.

Campanelli's Dukes have compiled an overall record of 45-15 during the last two years, won an Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Southern Division regular-season and tournament championship, and participated in two straight NCAA Eastern Regional Tournaments.

What JMU's success the last two years has done is make the entire country aware of Campanelli's ability as a basketball coach—a fact that has been known in Virginia's Shenandoah Valley for quite some time.

Lou Campanelli can coach basketball. The man can flat coach.

Campanelli is the dean of Division I basketball coaches in the state of Virginia. The 1982-83 season will be his 11th as the head basketball coach at JMU and that's longer than any other Division I head coach in the state has been at his present school.

The reason for Campanelli's longevity is quite simple. He has taken the JMU program from the Division III level to the point where the Dukes are now a nationally-recognized Division I program after just six years at that level. His teams have compiled an overall record of 189-79 (.705) and that ranks him 15th among active major college coaches in the nation in winning percentage.

Campanelli has finally begun to receive the recognition he and his program deserve after the outstanding accomplishments of the JMU team the last two years.

During the 1981-82 season JMU was 24-6, won the ECAC Southern Division regular-season championship and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Eastern Regional. JMU beat Ohio State 55-48 in the opening round of the Eastern Regional before losing to North Carolina 52-50.

JMU's 1980-81 team was 21-9, won the ECAC Southern Division Tournament championship and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Eastern Regional with a 61-55 victory over Georgetown University. The Dukes lost in the second round of the tournament 54-45 to nationally-ranked Notre Dame.

JMU's success the last two years meant increased respect and visibility for Campanelli and the JMU basketball program.

"The success we've enjoyed the last two years has developed a high level of confidence in our players," Campanelli says. "To defeat and compete against the teams we have helped them believe in themselves and our system."

"Our basketball program has become a rallying point on campus and in the community. We've gained accomplished here. The growth and success we've enjoyed is a tribute to our players and to our program."

And to the head coach. Campanelli's success at JMU has not gone unnoticed. During the last two years he has been interviewed for the head coaching positions at Georgia Tech and Boston College, and his name has been mentioned in relation to coaching positions at numerous other schools. He has, however, remained at

"Our basketball program has become a rallying point on campus and in the community. We've gained respect around the state and region and brought national attention to our program."

respect around the state and region and brought national attention to our program."

The Dukes' success has also meant a hectic time for Campanelli.

"Our success the last two years has meant a busy schedule for me the last two summers," Campanelli said. "The exposure for our program was tremendous. People look at you in a different light because of what you've accomplished."

"I think the most gratifying thing for me is the fact that we rose from the level of obscurity to the NCAA tournament," Campanelli said. "That's very satisfying. People are interested in how we built our program in such a short time as well as the things we've done offensively and defensively."

When you consider that Campanelli's "worst" record at JMU was the 16-10 mark compiled by his first team back during the 1972-73 season, you begin to get an idea of what the man has accomplished during his ten seasons at JMU. The Dukes' success the last two seasons is an indication that the JMU head coach is not finished yet.

"I think our kids looked at our schedules the last couple of years and rose to the level of competition," Campanelli said. "They weren't awed by the people they were going to play."

"I think the growth of the basketball program at JMU is unrivaled in recent years," Campanelli says. "We've come a long way in a short time without experiencing the ups and downs programs usually do when they're growing. Our kids have continuously risen to the level of competition. We've had ten straight winning seasons and have averaged 19 wins a season. I think that's a remarkable standard of consistency."

"No other coach could have had as much fun as I have," Campanelli said. "I've been here since day one and I don't think I could feel the same sense of satisfaction in any other situation."

"It's really mind-boggling what's happened here and I don't know if it can be fully appreciated now," Campanelli says. "I think a few years from now we can look back and appreciate more fully what's been

JMU.

Campanelli is now recognized as an outstanding teacher of the game and his teams are characterized by strong defense, good shooting and unselfish team play.

Notre Dame head coach Digger Phelps said of Campanelli after the JMU-Notre Dame game in the 1981 NCAA Eastern Regional:

"James Madison is one of the most difficult teams to play any time. That's a credit to Lou Campanelli."

And Villanova head coach Rollie Massimino says of the JMU head coach:

"Lou Campanelli is one of the most outstanding young coaches in the game. He is a true teacher and a leader, and he's finally getting the credit he deserves. He is an outstanding person and an outstanding family man."

North Carolina head coach Dean Smith also had words of praise for Campanelli and the Dukes after their NCAA Eastern Regional meeting last season:

"They are really an excellent basketball team. I want to congratulate them on a great year and a great game."

Campanelli proudly discussed his team and the JMU basketball program after the Dukes' two-point loss to North Carolina in the NCAA tournament:

"What you saw out there today was as fine an exhibition of basketball by any team we ever had under the most difficult of circumstances. I can't imagine any coach in the NCAA Tournament being more proud of his basketball team."

"We are a helluva lot better than people think we are. I don't want this to sound cocky, but there is no way we should be this good after just six years in Division I, but we are."

"I was delighted the whole country saw us play a great basketball game against a great team. Our kids never cracked, never broke. When the number one team in the country can't break you, the whole country has to take off their hats to the Dukes."

Campanelli's teams have provided JMU basketball fans with a decade of basketball success. Those fans are hoping the best is yet to come.

JMU coach Lou Campanelli directs play from the bench during last season's NCAA Eastern Regional Tournament at Charlotte, N.C.

Meet the Players

Seniors

Bob Donohoe

Sr. - 6'8" - 210
Forward
Bethesda, Md.

Started JMU's first 12 games last season but got limited playing time the second half of the season after suffering a stress fracture in his leg...Played in only five of JMU's final 18 games last season...Good shooter who could help the Dukes particularly against zone defenses this season...Played in 27 games as a sophomore after overcoming a pre-season knee injury...Had a career-high 15 points against North Carolina Wesleyan as a sophomore...Also had 10 points in the Dukes' win at home over Richmond that season.

David Dupont

Sr. - 6'5" - 190
Guard
Greensboro, N.C.

Well-rounded player and one of the most unselfish players ever to perform for the Dukes...Excellent defensive player and a fine passer...Was JMU's Most Valuable Defensive Player last season...Has led JMU in assists for three straight seasons and currently is fourth on the team's all-time assist list (283)...Needs 38 assists to become JMU's all-time leader in assists...Led last season's team in steals (44) and was second on the squad in free throw percentage (82.0 percent)...Suffered through a shooting slump early last season but rebounded to score in double figures nine times...Led the team with 16 points at New Orleans and 13 at George Mason...Twice led last season's team in rebounding and led the team or tied for the team lead in assists 20 times...Had six assists in a game three times as a junior...An honorable mention selection to "Basketball Weekly's" All-Freshman Team three years ago.

Charles Fisher

Sr. - 6'2" - 178
Guard
Cape Charles, Va.

Three-year veteran point guard whom coach Lou Campanelli calls "one of the most courageous" players ever to play for the Dukes...Overcame a series of injuries last season to score in double figures in five of JMU's last seven games and to tie for the team scoring lead in two of the Dukes' four post-season games...Had 15 points in each of the Dukes' ECAC South Tournament games...Led JMU with 14 points in its 43-41 win at Old Dominion...Missed three games last season because of injuries and sat out portions of several other games...Led the Dukes in free throw percentage (82.9 percent)...Tied for second on the team in steals and was third on the team in assists despite the injury problem...Good perimeter shooter and an excellent defender...Outstanding quickness and a natural leader...JMU's Most Valuable Defensive Player as a freshman when he moved into the starting line-up midway through the season.

Dan Ruland

Sr. - 6'8" - 240
Center
Annapolis, Md.

Very underrated player who has performed well against many of the nation's top collegiate centers the last two seasons...Had 29 points and 20 rebounds in two games against Virginia last season and had 30 points and 10 rebounds in the

Dukes' two NCAA Tournament games last season...Good shooter from 18 feet...Scored in double figures 23 times last season...An All-ECAC South selection and named to the All-Tournament teams at the Richmond Times-Dispatch Invitational, the JMU Invitational and the ECAC South Tournament last season...Shot 59.8 percent from the field last season, tying the JMU season record for field goal percentage, and was ranked 22nd in the nation in that department...Good free throw shooter, hitting 78 percent of his free throws for three seasons...Strong physical player who uses his strength well.

Juniors

Woody Boler

Jr. - 6'7" - 210
Forward
Salisbury, N.C.

Played in all but one game last season and could play a bigger role with added consistency...Started two games last season and reached double figures in scoring twice...Had 11 points and three rebounds in JMU's 81-65 win over Vermont in the finals of the JMU Invitational and had 10 points and three rebounds in the Dukes' 47-45 win over Virginia Commonwealth...Scored the winning field goal with five seconds to play in the 47-45 win over Virginia Commonwealth...Had eight rebounds in a 79-43 win over Maryland-Eastern Shore and had five rebounds against Virginia in a 57-44 loss in the championship game of the Richmond Times-Dispatch Invitational Tournament.

Keith Bradley

Jr. - 6'7" - 214
Forward
Chesterfield, Va.

Played very well late last season and should play a more important role for the Dukes this season...Can play forward or center and will contend for a starting position...Excellent passer and a good defender...Expected to improve his offensive output this season...Played in every game last season and had eight points and five rebounds in the Dukes' NCAA win over Ohio State...Had three points and five rebounds against North Carolina...Had four points and four assists in the Dukes' win at New Orleans and scored six points in three other games last season...Had five rebounds in a game four times and had 26 assists last season.

Troy Keys

Jr. - 5'11" - 172
Guard
Harrisburg, Pa.

Backcourt reserve who has adjusted well to his role and is ready to play when needed...Appeared in 12 games last season...Has good quickness...Scored 15 points in 38 minutes last season...Had three points in JMU's 79-43 win over Maryland-Eastern Shore, in the Dukes' 76-48 win over Towson State and in their 64-49 win over William and Mary in the semifinals of the ECAC South Tournament.

Derek Steele

Jr. - 5'9" - 178
Guard
Alexandria, Va.

JMU's top reserve in the backcourt for the last two seasons...Very quick and a good ball handler...Penetrates well, is an excellent defender and plays very well in the Dukes' delay offense...Played in every game last season and started eight times...Fourth on last season's team in assists (55) and fifth in steals (23)...Had a career-high 10 points in the Dukes' 56-51 loss at Richmond last season and had four rebounds in JMU's 75-59 win over George Mason...Led last season's team or tied for the team lead in assists six times...Had six assists in the Dukes' 59-49 win at Navy...An outstanding athlete who first chose to attend JMU on a football scholarship.

Sophomores

Darrell Jackson

So. - 6'6" - 202
Forward
Richmond, Va.

Assumed a key role at forward for the Dukes last season as a freshman and is the team's top frontcourt defender...Played in every game last season and started 16 of the team's final 18 contests...Second on last season's team in field goal percentage (56.9 percent)...Had 12 points in JMU's 72-55 win over UNC-Wilmington and the Dukes' 75-59 win over George Mason...Hit five straight shots and had four rebounds in the first half of JMU's 60-48 win over Old Dominion...Had eight rebounds in that win over Old Dominion and in wins over Bucknell and Towson State last season...Reached double figures in scoring five times as a freshman...An honorable mention selection to "Basketball Weekly's" All-Freshman team last season.

Jimmy Masloff

So. - 6'5" - 194
Guard-Forward
Charlottesville, Va.

Made the transition from forward to guard last season and appeared in 21 of the Dukes' 30 games...Averaged 1.6 points and 1.2 rebounds per game as a freshman...Strong player who can help the Dukes at either the second guard or small forward position...Had 10 points and four rebounds in JMU's 72-50 win over East Carolina last season...Had four points and four rebounds in the Dukes' 79-46 win over Campbell...Averaged 17 points and nine rebounds a game as a senior at Albemarle High School...Was listed among the top 15 players in Virginia as a senior by the Roanoke Times & World News.

Greg Mosten
So. - 6'7" - 214
Forward
Harrisburg, Pa.

Appeared in 10 games last season but should see increased playing time with an additional year's experience...Plays hard under the boards but needs to continue to develop his shot...Had 14 points and 15 rebounds in 37 minutes of playing time last season...Hit eight of 10 free throw attempts (80 percent) and blocked three shots last season...Averaged 20 points and 12 rebounds a game as a senior at Susquehanna Township High School...Was a high school teammate of JMU guard Troy Keys...A first-team all-conference selection.

Freshmen

Eric Esch
Fr. - 6'9½" - 216
Center-Forward
Whitestone, N.Y.

Excellent shooter for a player his size and with added experience could be an outstanding player in the JMU program...Can be used at either the big forward or the center position...Averaged 14 points and nine rebounds a game as a 16-year-old high school senior last season at Archbishop Molloy High School...Led Archbishop Molloy to a 20-6 record in the New York Catholic

High School league last season...Coached in high school by Jack Curran, who also was the high school coach of JMU assistant John Thurston.

Todd Banks
Fr. - 6'5" - 211
Forward
Bellport, N.Y.

Plays well around the basket and is expected to be a power forward for the Dukes...Good scorer and an aggressive rebounder...Averaged 22.4 points and 19.2 rebounds per game last season at Bellport High School...Shot 68 percent from the field and 63 percent from the foul line as a high school senior...Had 75 blocked shots, 37 assists and 35 steals last season...Led Bellport to its league championship with a 14-4 record last season and to a 53-12 mark in three seasons as a starter...Three-time all-league selection and led Bellport to the New York Class B championship as a junior.

William Hughes
Fr. - 6'4" - 182
Forward-Guard
Beltsville, Md.

An excellent scorer who has improved steadily during the last year...Will play the small forward or possibly the big guard position for the Dukes and is a talented all-around player...Averaged 28 points and 14 rebounds per game last season as a senior at Good Counsel High School...Shot 72 percent from the field and 78 percent from the foul line last season...Played in the Mc-

Donald's Capitol Classic...Was a Catholic high school All-America and a second team All-Metropolitan Washington, D.C. selection last season...Was an all-county, all-conference and all-private schools selection in the Washington, D.C., area last season.

Tracy Williams
Fr. - 6'6" - 195
Forward
Beaufort, N.C.

A good shooter, rebounder and leaper who could give the Dukes depth in the frontcourt this season...Averaged 23.1 points and 15.1 rebounds per game last season in leading East Carteret High School to a 25-5 record...Led East Carteret to the semifinals of the North Carolina AA Tournament as a high school senior...Played in the North Carolina scholastic all-star game last season and was named County Player of the Year...An All-Eastern North Carolina and All-Eastern Regional Tournament selection as a senior.

1982-83 Schedule

Date	Opponent	Location
Nov. 28	Virginia Military Institute	Home
Dec. 1	University of Virginia	Home
Dec. 8	University of Maine	Bangor, Maine
Dec. 11	Virginia Commonwealth University	Home
Dec. 20-21	CARDINAL VARSITY CLUB CLASSIC	Muncie, Ind.
	JMU vs. Louisiana Tech
	Ball State vs. Fairleigh Dickinson
Dec. 28-29	ROCHESTER CLASSIC	Rochester, N.Y.
	St. Bonaventure vs. Seton Hall
	Iowa vs. JMU
Jan. 3	Fredonia State College	Home
Jan. 6	UNC-Wilmington	Wilmington, N.C.
Jan. 8	East Carolina University	Greenville, N.C.
Jan. 11	University of Maine	Home
Jan. 15	Old Dominion University	Home
Jan. 19	Towson State University	Towson, Md.
Jan. 22	George Mason University	Home
Jan. 26	U.S. Naval Academy	Home
Jan. 29	College of William and Mary	Williamsburg, Va.
Jan. 31	Old Dominion University	Norfolk, Va.
Feb. 5	University of New Orleans	Home
Feb. 9	Virginia Commonwealth University	Richmond, Va.
Feb. 12	University of Richmond	Richmond, Va.
Feb. 14	American University	Home
Feb. 16	George Mason University	Fairfax, Va.
Feb. 19	College of William & Mary	Home
Feb. 23	East Carolina University	Home
March 2	U.S. International	Home
March 5	University of Richmond	Home
March 10-12	ECAC SOUTH TOURNAMENT	Richmond, Va.

All home games begin at 7:30 p.m. except the Old Dominion game, which begins at 7 p.m.

On JMU Sports Network Stations to Air Games

If you can't attend a JMU basketball game during the 1982-83 season, tune in the James Madison University Sports Network to follow the Dukes. All home and away games during the 1982-83 season will be broadcast over the network, and special features and interviews will be included in each broadcast.

Each of JMU's 1982-83 games will be broadcast by WMRA-FM (90.7) in Harrisonburg, WSVA-AM (550) in Harrisonburg, WAYB-AM (1490) in Waynesboro, WVAI-AM (610) in Winchester, WTTX-FM (107.1) in Appomattox and WXCF-AM (1230) and WXCF-FM (103.9) in Clifton Forge.

Carrying portions of the Dukes' schedule this season will be WFFV-FM (99.3) in Middletown, WTON-AM (1240) in Staunton and WREL-AM (1450) in Lexington.

ECAC Tournament Set

The fourth Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Southern Division Tournament will be held March 10-12 at the University of Richmond.

The ECAC South consists of six teams for the 1982-83 season, and each of the six will compete in the tournament for the conference's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

JMU won the tournament two years ago and finished second to Old Dominion University in last season's tournament.

The two top-seeded teams in this season's tournament will receive first-round byes. The No. 3 seed and the sixth-seeded team will play, and the No. 4 seed and the fifth-seeded team will play in the opening round on March 10.

The two top-seeded teams and the first-round winners meet the following evening in the tournament semifinals, and the championship game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on March 12.

In addition to JMU, teams competing in the ECAC South this season include East Carolina University, George Mason University, the University of Richmond, the U.S. Naval Academy and the College of William and Mary.

With ECAC Title, NCAA Tournament Bid

Last Season Was Finest in Dukes' History

The 1981-82 basketball season was the finest in James Madison University's basketball history.

The Dukes compiled a 24-6 record, won the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Southern Division regular-season championship, received an at-large invitation to participate in the NCAA Tournament and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Eastern Regional. JMU defeated Ohio State 55-48 in the opening round of the tournament before losing 52-50 to top-ranked and eventual national champion North Carolina.

The Dukes opened the season with eight straight victories before losing to nationally-ranked Virginia in the championship game of the Richmond Times-Dispatch Invitational Tournament. During the eight-game winning streak, the Dukes won their own JMU Invitational Tournament with victories over Bucknell (59-43) and Vermont (81-65) and had victories over in-state opponents Virginia Commonwealth University (twice), Virginia Military Institute and George Mason.

The loss to Virginia in the Richmond Times-Dispatch Invitational opened a stretch where the Dukes lost three times in four games. JMU lost to Virginia again three days later in Charlottesville and then, after a victory over East Carolina, lost to the University of Richmond on the road.

The Dukes then took off on a seven-game winning streak and won 14 of their next 15 games. JMU won 15 of its last 18 games and those three losses were by a combined total of five points.

That 18-game stretch featured three victories over William & Mary, two over Old Dominion, and victories over the University of New Orleans and Richmond in addition to the win over Ohio State in the NCAA Eastern Regional. The losses were a two-point overtime defeat by Virginia Commonwealth University, a one-point loss to Old Dominion in the championship game of the ECAC Southern Division Tournament and the two-point loss to North Carolina.

The loss to Virginia Commonwealth was JMU's only loss on its home court at Godwin Hall all season. JMU was 12-1 at home and 12-5 on the road during the 1981-82 season.

JMU's loss to Old Dominion in the ECAC Tournament cost the Dukes an automatic berth in the NCAA Tournament. JMU's 22-4 regular-season record, however, had attracted the attention of the NCAA Basketball Committee and the Dukes received an at-large invitation to the NCAA Tournament.

"I think it's a well-deserved honor," JMU head coach Lou Campanelli said. "It's an honor to be selected by the committee to compete for the national championship because I think it says a lot for our program and for the respect we've gained around the country."

There were a number of factors that contributed to JMU's outstanding season. The Dukes played well together, they shot the ball well, played strong defense and did a fine job of rebounding for a team that didn't have overwhelming height. They shot 51.5 percent from the field as a team (third best in the team's history), were ranked fifth in the nation in team scoring defense (allowing an average of just 52 points a game) and were ranked 24th in the nation in rebound margin as they out-rebounded their opponents by an average of five rebounds a game.

JMU also shot 72.2 percent from the foul line (third best in the team's history). The Dukes' average margin of victory was 10.2 points a game and JMU was out-rebounded only five times in 30 games. JMU held opponents under 50 points in a game 15 times during the season.

JMU's 24 victories were the most ever for the Dukes in a season and their 22 victories during the regular season set a team record.

The Dukes were ranked fourth in the final Widmer Cup poll of Eastern basketball teams and were ranked in a tie for tenth in "Eastern Basketball" magazine's final poll of the season.

As you might expect, JMU players earned a number of individual honors.

Senior forward Linton Townes was named the ECAC South's Most Valuable Player and he earned honorable mention All-America honors from the Associated Press and The Sporting News. He was also a first team All-State selection as named by the Richmond Times-Dispatch and was JMU's Most Valuable Offensive Player.

Townes averaged 16.3 points a game to lead the Dukes in that department and he was second on the team in rebounding with an average of 5.9 a game. He finished his JMU career with 1,380 points and is fourth on JMU's all-time scoring list. Townes shot 55.7 percent from the field for his JMU career.

Center Dan Ruland was JMU's leading rebounder (6.3) and second-

---

'Our kids did an absolutely super job! We played the number one team in the nation dead even for 40 minutes...'

---

leading scorer (12.7), and he earned All-ECAC South honors.

Guard David Dupont was named JMU's Most Valuable Defensive Player and he moved into fourth place on the Dukes' all-time assist list. Dupont led the Dukes in assists for the third straight season (100) and he also averaged 6.7 points and 3.7 rebounds a game.

Perhaps it was Campanelli who summed things up best after the Dukes' two-point loss to North Carolina in the NCAA tournament:

"Our kids did an absolutely super job! We played the number one team in the nation dead even for 40 minutes. I am disappointed, I am crushed, I am emotional. We were just two points shy. But at the same time I am so damn proud of a program we've built over the last 10 years.

"We came to win. Our kids played to win. If North Carolina is the top team in the country, we deserve to be in the Top 20 somewhere."

A top 20 ranking will have to wait for the future, but after winning 45 games the last two seasons and making two straight appearances in the NCAA Tournament, Campanelli's Dukes have proven they can play with the best.

Linton Townes shoots over two North Carolina defenders.

Discount Offered for Fans

Alumni and friends of James Madison University are being offered reduced price tickets to see former JMU basketball star Linton Townes in action in a National Basketball Association game.

Townes is now a member of the Portland Trail Blazers team in the NBA. He was the second-round draft selection of the Trail Blazers and is the first JMU graduate to make the roster of an NBA team.

The Trail Blazers will be playing the Washington Bullets on Nov. 27 in the Capitol Center near Washington and the Bullets have offered JMU alumni and friends special prices on tickets for that game.

There will be a $2 per ticket reduction in prices for anyone contacting the Bullets office and identifying themselves as JMU alumni or friends. Tickets that are regularly priced at $12, $10 and $6 will be available for $10, $8 and $4.

Persons interested in the special ticket rate should contact Drew Mills at the Bullets headquarters, 301-350-3400.

NCAA Tournament: Well-Deserved Honor

Derek Steele

David Dupont

Charles Fisher

Keith Bradley

Dan Ruland shoots from the foul line late in JMU's 55-48 NCAA win over Ohio State last season.

Women's Basketball Has New Beginning

The 1982-83 season marks a new beginning in women's basketball at James Madison University, with the arrival of Shelia Moorman as head coach and the opening of the JMU Convocation Center.

Moorman, who helped build a national champion women's basketball team as an assistant coach at Francis Marion College, has high expectations for JMU women's basketball.

"I've always been associated with winners, and I don't expect this to be any exception," Moorman says. "Our number one priority is to build a top 20 program and we want to attract student-athletes who will assist us in reaching that goal."

With only one starter lost to graduation, Moorman will have an experienced nucleus from which to build.

The guard position is one of the strongest areas on the team, with starters Sue Manelski and Betsy Blose returning. Manelski, a 5'6" sophomore from Wilmington, Del., stepped into a starting role as a freshman and led the team in scoring with a 15.5 average and set five new JMU records, including a season assist record (90). Blose, a 5'7" junior from nearby Penn Laird, Va., scored 7.2 points per game and handed out 68 assists last season.

"We hope to take Sue's aggressive style of play to the second guard position this year. And even though she's 5'7", we will depend on her to rebound too," says head coach Shelia Moorman. "Betsy is a dedicated and intense player, and we hope she can assume the responsibility of playing the opponent's best scoring guard."

Also returning at guard is 5'7" senior Judy Baumgardner of Harrisburg, Pa. Baumgardner averaged 4.3 points per game in 1981-82. "Judy should bring stability to the team. She's a very self-confident player and has game experience that should help in critical situations," says Moorman.

Lee Anne Taylor, a 5'7" junior from Mechanicsville, Va., also returns for JMU. Taylor could also be used as a forward this season.

"Lee Anne is a smart player and a good shooter who also is one of the best jumpers on the team," says Moorman.

A potential starter at guard will also be a newcomer Mary Gilligan. The 5'6" junior from Middletown, N.J., has transferred to JMU this season from Tulane University. Gilligan was a 1,000-point scorer at Middletown South High School where she was an All-State basketball selection.

"Most definitely I would look for Mary Gilligan to fit in right away," says Moorman. "She is a pure shooter with superb ball handling and passing skills. She runs the break well and has a real nice outside shot with good range. Her two years' major college playing experience should enable her to play right away."

Michele James, a 6' sophomore from Ellicott City, Md., and Deana Meadows, a 6' senior from Seabrook, Md., lead the returning players up front. James averaged 11.7 points and 8.3 rebounds per game as a freshman starter, while Meadows, a three-year starter, scored 11.6 points and pulled down 8.0 rebounds per contest last year.

"Michele will be used primarily in a high post position this season. She has a good shooting touch, especially for a 6' player," Moorman says. "Deana will carry the majority of the load down low on offense. She will be our strength inside."

Lori Marsden, a 5'10" senior from Rockville, Md., is also back for the Dukes. "Lori has a great understanding and feel for the game. She fits into the team concept very easily," says Moorman.

Three freshmen will give JMU depth up front.

Kerri Borchardt, a 5'9" forward from Charlottesville, Va., comes to JMU from Albemarle High School where she was twice named the Western District's Most Valuable Player. At Albemarle she became the school's all-time leading scorer with 1,154 career points.

Georgia Deren, a 5'10" forward from Greenlawn, N.Y., was an All-League selection at Huntington High School and played on the bronze medalist team at the 1981 Empire State Games.

Sue Flynn, a 5'10" forward from Woodbridge, Va., played for the Garfield High School team that was runner-up in Virginia's Group AAA state tournament the past two years. Flynn also played for the AAU team that won the Virginia championship and advanced to the AAU National Championships last summer.

"Kerri and Sue will have to make the transition to the wing position. Sue is the best pure shooter on the team and has a great turnaround shot," says Moorman. "Georgia is more the strong forward type and will fit in possibly at middle post. She makes up for her lack of height with physical play and defense."

"We plan to work very, very hard on our defensive game and would like to play a multiple defense game as soon as possible," Moorman says. "We want to create as much offense from our defense as possible, instead of playing a half-court game with people who have more size."

"The thing I am most impressed with about this team is that I honestly believe they are very hungry. They are willing to put forth the effort necessary to achieve at the Division I level. They're not afraid of hard work, and that quality will be much to their favor."

The Dukes' 25-game 1982-83 schedule includes the likes of two-time national champion Old Dominion and top twenty contenders East Carolina and Virginia, as well as 1982 NCAA Division II runner-up Mount St. Mary's.

Guard Sue Manelski goes for two against Old Dominion last season.

1982-83 Schedule

Home games in boldface

Date	Opponent	Time
Nov. 20-21	at Lady Eagle Classic*
Nov. 30	George Mason University	7:30 p.m.
Dec. 3-5	at George Washington University Invitational†
Dec. 7	at American University	7:30 p.m.
Dec. 11	University of Richmond	2:00 p.m.
Jan. 5	at West Virginia University	5:30 p.m.
Jan. 6	at University of Charleston (W.Va.)	7:00 p.m.
Jan. 9	Hofstra University	2:00 p.m.
Jan. 11	at University of Richmond	7:30 p.m.
Jan. 15	Mount St. Mary's College	2:00 p.m.
Jan. 19	East Tennessee State University	7:30 p.m.
Jan. 22	at Radford University	7:30 p.m.
Jan. 24	at Appalachian State University	5:30 p.m.
Feb. 1	Virginia Commonwealth University	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 5	East Carolina University	2:00 p.m.
Feb. 9	University of Richmond	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 11	Duke University	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 16	at Virginia Tech	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 19	at Wake Forest University	4:30 p.m.
Feb. 22	George Washington University	7:30 p.m.
Feb. 27	College of William and Mary	2:00 p.m.
Mar. 3	at Old Dominion University	7:30 p.m.

*Ithaca College, Lock Haven State College (host), Niagara University

†University of District of Columbia, George Washington University, Long Island University, Princeton University, Temple University, St. Joseph's University, Wagner College

Games to Air on Radio

Selected James Madison University women's basketball games can be heard this season on National Public Radio station WMRA-FM (90.7), which has carried JMU's women's basketball games since 1975.

JMU's games scheduled for broadcast this season include:

Date	Opponent	Air Time
Nov. 30	George Mason	7:20 p.m.
Jan. 9	Hofstra	1:50 p.m.
Feb. 1	Virginia Commonwealth	7:20 p.m.
Feb. 11	Duke	7:20 p.m.
Feb. 22	George Washington	7:20 p.m.
Mar. 3	Old Dominion	7:20 p.m.

As New Women's Coach

Moorman Brings Winning Habit to JMU

James Madison University women's basketball began a new era in the spring of 1982 with the appointment of Shelia Moorman as head coach.

The 37-year-old Moorman came to JMU from Francis Marion College where she had been assistant basketball coach and head volleyball and softball coach since 1978. Francis Marion, which won the 1982 Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) Division II national championship, compiled a 93-31 (.750) record during Moorman's four years as assistant coach. The Lady Patriots were ranked 12th in Division II in 1981, 18th in 1980 and 15th among small colleges in 1979.

Her volleyball teams at Francis Marion compiled a record of 109-47 (.699) in four years and competed in two AIAW Region II Tournaments. Moorman's softball teams compiled a 71-23 (.755) record, won two South Carolina Division II championships, captured a Region II championship and finished as high as ninth at the AIAW Division II National Championships.

Moorman played varsity basketball at Brigham Young University, where she received a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1968, and was a member of the U.S. National Women's Basketball Team in 1970, 1973 and 1974. In addition, she played AAU basketball for eight years, was named an AAU All-America in 1971, 1973 and 1974, and was Missouri Valley AAU Athlete of the Year in 1974.

Moorman played for the AAU Raytown (Mo.) Pipers from 1970-75. The team never finished lower than seventh in the AAU National Tournament and was twice national runner-up during her five years as a member.

She was assistant volleyball, basketball and softball coach at the University of South Carolina in 1977-78 and was a graduate assistant coach in basketball and volleyball at the University of Kansas from 1975-77. Moorman received a master's degree in exercise physiology and administration from the University of Kansas in 1981.

Moorman's background in athletics spells success. At JMU she expects to continue that tradition.

"I've always been associated with winners, and I don't expect this to be any exception," Moorman says. "Our number one priority is to build a top 20 program and we want to attract student-athletes who will assist us in reaching that goal."

"We want to establish a winning attitude this year. You have to think like winners and act like winners to be winners, and that includes paying the price. Our goal is to teach our players what it takes to become winners and help them each improve individually. We want them to go as far as they can in reaching their potential. We want to improve not only their basketball and their skills but also make them physically stronger," Moorman says.

"We're very realistic in terms of where we stand as related to the other Division I programs within the region," says Moorman. "But the players on this year's team have a lot of desire. It will be interesting to see how far that burning desire will enable us to go."

"We're going to need to function very much in a team concept. We have no superstars, so both offensively and defensively we will be team-oriented," Moorman says.

"Our primary objective this year is to try to establish on every level a basis on which we can build a program," says Moorman. "And any time you start something and start to rebuild, one of the important areas is public relations. We're trying to find every opportunity to let people know what we're trying to do here.

Head coach Shelia Moorman explains strategy to senior Lori Marsden at a practice session this fall.

"I really like the things I see here at James Madison," says Moorman.

"This is a quality institution with a lot of good people on the staff and faculty. The Shenandoah Valley is a beautiful area, and as each week passes I become more and more satisfied with my decision to take this coaching position."

Assistant coach Andy Morrison

Assistant Coach Seeks Hard Work, Challenge

Andrea "Andy" Morrison joins the James Madison University coaching staff this season as assistant to head basketball coach Shelia Moorman.

The 32-year-old Morrison has been head basketball coach at the University of South Carolina-Spartanburg for the past two years. Her 1981-82 team compiled a 12-9 record and finished fifth in the South Carolina Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women.

Morrison coached basketball at St. John's High School in Darlington, S.C., from 1973-80, where her teams compiled an overall record of 83-72. In 1979-80 St. John's won the 5AAA Conference championship and Morrison was named the conference's Basketball Coach of the Year.

A native of Elmira, N.Y., Morrison received a bachelor's degree from Coker College in Hartsville, S.C., in 1972. She played intercollegiate basketball, volleyball and field hockey at Coker where she also served as president of the Physical Education Majors Club and the Coker College Recreation Association.

She earned a master's degree from the University of Tennessee in 1973.

"I'm impressed with everything about JMU. I'm pleased to have the opportunity to work with a coach of Shelia Moorman's caliber and experience and I feel very good about JMU and the community; everyone has made me feel very much at home here," said Morrison.

"To me it's a challenge to see if you can improve a program with hard work. That's the way it was for me at USC-Spartanburg and at St. John's, so I'm used to the pressure of working with building a program. We won't be afraid of hard work here."

1981-82 Results

Record: 6-18

JMU	Opp.
61	Pittsburgh-Johnstown 77
73	Charleston 76
68	American 81
87	Malone 67
64	Pittsburgh-Johnstown 69
80	Fordham 87
106	Vermont 83
46	Virginia 91
76	Appalachian State 66
70	George Mason 81
76	Duke 75
60	East Carolina 90
59	Louisville 74
66	Mount St. Mary's 84
64	Longwood 49
50	Old Dominion 81
69	Marshall 72
74	Virginia Tech 85
83	Towson State 76
62	East Tennessee State 80
73	William and Mary 85
68	West Virginia 79
66	Radford 68
60	Duke 63

Meet the Players

Seniors

Judy Baumgardner

Sr. - 5'7" - Guard
Harrisburg, Pa.

Should bring stability to the team. Can be expected to provide offensive punch when she's in the game. Has game experience that should help out in critical situations. Very self-confident player on the court. Fundamentally sound player. A three-sport athlete at Central Dauphin where she was twice named to South Central All-Star Team in both basketball and softball. Named one of top 15 players in the Harrisburg area in 1979 by the Harrisburg Patriot-News. Participated in the Central Pennsylvania Roundball Classic. Was a three-year starter on the Central Dauphin softball team. Named Central Dauphin tennis team's most valuable player.

Deana Meadows

Sr. - 6' - Center-Forward
Seabrook, Md.

Will look to her for senior leadership and point production this season. Working hard in pre-season to improve her physical strength. Will carry the majority of the load down low on offense for the Dukes as she will be the team's strength inside. Led JMU in scoring and rebounding her sophomore year with a 13.7 points per game average and an 8.4 rebounds per game average. An All-Virginia AIAW second team selection in 1980-81. Set JMU single game field goal percentage record against Norfolk State her freshman year when she made nine of ten attempts. Last season established school record for consecutive free throws when she made 23 straight over a six-game period.

Lori Marsden

Sr. - 5'10" - Forward
Rockville, Md.

Has a great understanding and feel for the game. An all-out player who fits into the team concept very easily. Is working toward increasing physical strength in pre-season. Fundamentally sound player. A three-year starter on Holy Cross team that compiled an 83-1 record and won three D.C. Metropolitan Area Catholic League championships during her three years on the team. Earned All-Metro honors and All-Catholic honors at Holy Cross.

outside shot with good range. Transferred to JMU this year from Tulane. Her two years of major college playing experience should enable her to play right away. Played on Middletown South High School team that won the Central Jersey championship her senior year. All-State, All-County, All-Monmouth and All-Shore selection in basketball as a senior at Middletown South. Team MVP her junior and senior years in high school. Scored more than 1,000 career points at Middletown South. Also an All-State softball selection in high school.

when she was perfect from the foul line (10-10) and tied the JMU single game free throw percentage record. Also had a fine game against Towson State where she scored 19 points, grabbed eight rebounds and blocked two shots. Named to All-Tournament Team at Mountain Cat Classic where she scored 25 points in two games. Averaged 24.1 points and 13.4 rebounds a game while leading Glenelg High School to the Maryland state quarterfinals her senior year. Scored 1,039 points in only two years at Glenelg.

Named the Western District's Most Valuable Player three straight years at Albemarle High School. Also a three-time All-Western District first team selection. All-time leading scorer at Albemarle with 1,154 career points.

Georgia Deren

Fr. - 5'10" - Forward
Greenlawn, N.Y.

Makes up for lack of height with physical play and defense. Described by JMU coaches as a "Dan Ruland" type of player. Knows how to get position. Good all-round player who understands the game. Played point guard at Huntington High School where she was a two-time All-League and All-Suffolk County basketball selection.

Sue Flynn

Fr. - 5'10" - Forward
Woodbridge, Va.

Best pure shooter on the team. Played inside in high school but will make transition to wing at JMU. Quiet but deadly player with a great turnaround shot. Hard worker who is determined to improve. Played for Gar-Field High School's basketball team that was runner-up in Virginia Group AAA state tournament the past two seasons.

Juniors

Betsy Blose

Jr. - 5'7" - Guard
Penn Laird, Va.

Dedicated, intense player. Hopes to channel that intensity into more disciplined play. Will probably assume the responsibility of playing the opponent's best scoring guard. Not afraid of physical contact. Led JMU team with a school single season free throw percentage record last season when she hit 77.3% (34-44) of her free throw attempts. Improved her field goal shooting from 28.3% as a freshman to 47.3% her sophomore season. Second on team in assists last year with 68. Started all 24 games for the Dukes last season despite a rash of minor injuries.

Mary Gilligan

Jr. - 5'6" - Guard
Middletown, N.J.

True point guard who sees the court well. Can get the open player the ball. Superb ball handling and passing skills. Runs the break well. Has nice

Lee Anne Taylor

Jr. - 5'7" - Forward-Guard
Mechanicsville, Va.

Good shooter. Quick player who is one of the team's best jumpers. Plays within the scope of the team. Twice earned Colonial District basketball honors at Lee-Davis High School. Captained the basketball team in high school as a junior and senior. Also named MVP of the Lee-Davis track team her senior year.

Sue Manelski

So. - 5'6" - Guard
Wilmington, Del.

Will take her aggressive style of play to second guard position this year. Has great physical ability and knows how to use it. A leaper with great hang time. Depending on her to rebound despite her 5'6" height. Led JMU in scoring as a freshman with a 15.5 points per game average. Scored 33 points in back-to-back games to earn All-Tournament honors at Southern Connecticut Invitational. Set JMU single season assist record with 90 and tied JMU single game assist record with 10 against Malone last year. Also established JMU single season records for most free throws made (104) and attempted (142) in 1981-82.

Sophomores

Michele James

So. - 6' - Forward-Center
Ellicott City, Md.

Will be used primarily as a high post player. Has a good shooting touch for a player her size. Could become an excellent perimeter player. Has the potential to be a really strong scorer and rebounder. Led JMU in rebounding her freshman season with an 8.3 per game average. Was the team's second leading scorer (11.7) last season. Scored 28 points against William and Mary last season

Freshmen

Kerri Borchardt

Fr. - 5'9" - Forward
Charlottesville, Va.

Good all-round player. Smart player and a good team player. Making transition to wing position from the inside position she played in high school.

Postage and handling charges should be added for each item since the items are mailed separately.

Anniversary Banquets Set

Mail to: JMU Alumni Office
Hillcrest
James Madison University
Harrisonburg, VA 22807

GS204 Child's Baseball Cap. Adjustable 18" to 20-½". Purple . $4.29

GS205 Jersey. 50% cotton, 50% poly. Premium weight. Gold . . . . . $14.00

GS207 Football Jersey. 50% cotton, 50% poly. Premium weight. Purple-Gold Sleeve . . . . . $18.45

GS398 V-Neck 50% cotton, 50% poly. Premium weight shirt. Gold . $14.00

GS399 V-Neck 50% cotton, 50% poly. Premium weight shirt. Purple $14.00

GS539 Poly. Athletic Shorts. Slotted V-cut legs. Gold . . . . . $12.60

GS540 Poly. Athletic Shorts. Slotted V-cut legs. Purple . . . . . $12.60

GS300 All-sports Canvas Bag. Gold . . . . . $15.12

GS306 Canvas Barbecue Apron. Color logo . . . . . $9.80

GS310 Canvas Back Sack. Gold with color logo. 14" x 15" . . . $11.67

GS800 Canvas Tote Bag. Gold with color logo . . . . . $8.40

GS404 16 oz. Ceramic College Mug. Color logo. (personalized, brass) . . . . . $14.89

DESCRIPTION	QUANTITY	SIZE	UNIT COST		TOTAL

Please include shipping and handling for each item since items are mailed separately.

Up to $10.00 .. $1.50	Up to $50.00 ... $3.00	SUB TOTAL
Up to $20.00 .. $2.00	Over $50.00 ... $4.00	SALES TAX
Up to $30.00 .. $2.50		SHIPPING
		TOTAL

Names to be Personalized

Montpelier

Inez Graybeal Roop ('35), Richmond—Board of Visitors representative
Dr. G. Tyler Miller, Harrisonburg—lifetime honorary member

Montpelier

News from James Madison University

BASKETBALL REPORT

Volume 6

Number 3

November 1982

Duke Club Supports Athletics

James Madison University's successful and rapidly-growing athletic program receives much of its support from the JMU Duke Club.

The Duke Club was formed as a means of receiving donations for the JMU intercollegiate program. Tax funds cannot be used for the program so private gifts are necessary to maintain a level of excellence.

There are varying giving levels for membership in the Duke Club. Duke Club members receive a number of special benefits relating to the athletic program.

The 1981-82 Duke Club fund drive raised more than $300,000 for the support of the JMU athletic program.

Return the form on this page to receive further information on the Duke Club.

JAMES MADISON UNIVERSITY DUKE CLUB

Please send me further information on the James Madison University Duke Club.

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

I am a: _____ Student's parent

_____ Alumnus/Alumna

_____ Faculty/Staff member

_____ Friend of the University

Mail to: Duke Club
Hillcrest
James Madison University
Harrisonburg, VA 22807

DUKE CLUB

Office of Alumni Programs
Harrisonburg, Virginia 22807

Non Profit Organization
U.S. POSTAGE PAID
Harrisonburg, Virginia
PERMIT NO. 4

Madison Memorial Library
(3)
Campus Mail